CONGRESSIONAL SUMMARY.

A DAY DEVOTED TO DEBATE IN BOTH HOUSES.

"Contention" Between Senators Evarts and Ingalls Upon Philological Points -The Oleomargarine Bill Further Discussed in the House-No Action.

In the Senate yesterday, after routing morning business, the Northern Pacific forfeiture bill was placed before the Senate, and was then informally laid saids to permit Mr. Brown to address the Senate on

Mr. Brown said that of the 60,000,000 of the United States not 1,000,000 desired this bankruptcy bill. It was desired by the bankers and brokers and by the creditor class generally, as well as by the lawyers. It was a good bill for those, but a bad bill for the remainder of the people. He reviewed the history of our former bankruptcy laws to show that that class of national legislation had not worked well, and was not desired by the people. He and was not desired by the people. He analyzed the provisions of the pending bill, to show that they would have an injurious effect on that class of people who buy goods on eredit, and would discriminate against them in favor of people who "are very well able to take care of themselves." The bill would permit the putting into involuntary bankruptcy of persons who should be thirty days behind in their payments.

should be 'thirty day's behind in their payments.

Consideration of the Northern Pacific forfeiture bill was then resumed.

The question pending was on 'Mr. Van Wyek's proposed amendment, providing for the forfeiture, not of the lands of the Wallula branch slone, but of all lands appertaining to such branches of the road as shall not have been completed at the time of the passage of this act.

Mr. Call said the bill, as reported to the Senate, evaded the great question which the public opinion of the United States was forcing on Congress. The conviction and determination of our people were that all uncarned grants should be forfeited. Some thirty millions acres of the grant to the Northern Pacific Company had not been earned and should be forfeited. The testimony before Congress showed that between thirty and forty million of dollars beyond the cost of the road would be made by the projectors of the Northern Pacific enterprise.

Mr. George, That is, the government gave prise.

Mr. George. That is, the government gave them the means to build and equip the road complete from end to end, and $30,000,000 besides. Call. That is the effect of it.

Mr. Gall. That is the effect of it.

Mr. George. So as to make them a present of the road and $30,000,000 besides?

Mr. Call. That is the idea.

Mr. Call said he had been informed that an offer of $800,000,000 had been made by an English syndicate for the land grant of the Northern Pacific Company on the basis of $2.50 an acre.

Mr. George stated that the average sales of land by that company had been within a fraction of $4 instead of $2.50.

Mr. George stated the whole cost of the Northern Pacific road had been estimated by the commissioner of railroads at $75,000,000.

Mr. George said the whole cost of the Northern Pacific road had been estimated by the commissioner of railroads at $75,000,000.

Mr. De whole land grant was $42,000,000 seres, which, at $4 an acre, the average rate at which the lands had been sold by the company, would make $168,000,000.

Deducting from the sum the cost of the road, $75,000,000 for the projectors of the road.

At 2 o'clock the unfinished business, the railroad land taxation bill, was placed before the Senate.

Mr. Dolph, who had the floor on the bill

fore the Senate.

Mr. Dolph, who had the floor on the bill

fore the Senate.

Mr. Dolph, who had the floor on the bill when it was last under consideration, resumed his remarks. He approved the measure as a whole, although he thought that in the interest of the government and the interest of settlers the details of the bill might have been improved.

Mr. Plumb supported the bill. Having himself, he said, been the author of a bill that twice passed the Senate, on this subject, but failed in the House of Representatives, it was his belief that the provisions of the present bill were the best that could be now secured. Under this bill whatever rights local communities had with reference to the taxation of those railroad lands, as other lands were taxed, the United States government would not interfere with. The government lien which might interfere with such taxation was by this bill withdrawn. At the same time the government would lose no money to which it was entitled.

The Senate adopted an amendment, proposed by Mr. Plumb on behalf of the committee on public lands, providing for the repayment in proper cases of the cost of surveying to purchasers.

Mr. Evarts submitted an amendment to exclude unsurveyed lands, which was agreed to; and another amendment excluding "lands not surveyed and allocated."

Mr. Plumb and Mr. Teller opposed this.

Mr. Ingalls suggested the use of the word "located" instead of "allocated." [Laughter.]

[Laughter.]
The word "allocated," he said, meant the placing of one-thing after another. The matter of "locating" the public lands had been a subject of legal definition for the greater part of a century without disturbance, and Mr. Ingails thought it too late now to introduce a new phrase into our terminales.

terminology.

Mr. Evarts could not consent to change the word on the grounds stated by the senator from Kansas. [Laughter.] In the first place "allocated" was a much better technical term than "located." [Renewed ideal term than "located." [Renewed laughter.]

Mr. Ingalls (to a page). Bring a dictionary, please. [Roars of laughter.]
Mr. Everts' And in the next place "allocated" does not mean putting one thing after another. "Allocation" means "assigning to."
Mr. Evarts would, however, change the word if he could count on the support of the senator from Kansas. [Laughter.]
The amendment was defeated—yeas, 9, mays, 32. Mr. Hoar's amendment, heretofore submitted, was then brought up for consideration. It provides "That not more fore submitted, was then brought of more consideration. It provides "That not more than 640 acres of land sold under the protein shall be purchased by than 640 acres of land sold under the provisions of this act shall be purchased by any one person, or shall therefafter be acquired, or owned, or held in trust for any one person; and any title or interest acquired in violation hereof shall be forfeited to the United States without any other act of entry or processe whatever.

Mr. Everts opposed the amendment because fixing and limiting for all time, as by the decree of a "lord paramount," the number of acres of land that should constitute a farm.

ber of acres of land that should constitute a farm.

Mr. Hoar said that great landed proprietors had been the cause of great suffering among the "common people of the nation from which we came." He thought a farm of 640 acres enough. Wherever the title to the land of a country was, there, he said, was the sovereignty of that country.

Mr. Hawley opposed large holdings. It made little differance in one sense, he said, that we had dispensed with the laws of primogeniture and entail. There was another form in which the evils of these devices could be perpetuated. It could be perpetuated by permitting great corporations to acquire large holdings of land and hand them down perpetually. He would prohibit the acquisition of large holdings by corporations for speculative purposes.

nibit the acquisition of large holdings by corporations for speculative purposes.

The debate was continued by Messrs. Conger, Platt, and Evaris, and, without action on the amendment, the Senate, at 5:30, went into executive session. In ten minutes the doors were reopened and the Senate adjourned.

THE HOUSE.

THE HOUSE.

Early vesterday the House went into committee of the whole on the olsomargarine bill, and the consideration of that measure was continued throughout the entire day. Those who spoke in favor of the bill were Messrs. O'Ferrall, of Virginia; Buck, of Connecticut; Hiscock, of New York; Holman, of Indiana; McKenna, of California; Bayne, of Pennsylvania; Henley, of California, and Beach, of New York. Those who spoke in opposition were Messrs. Wellborn, of Texas; Hammond, of Georgia; Breckinridge, of Arkansas; O'Hara, of North Carolina; Morrison, of Hilnois, and Lawler, of Illinois.

On metion of Mr. Beach, of New York, an amendment was adopted inserting the word "knowingly" in the clause imposing a penalty upon every person who purchases or receives for sale any olsomargarine from any manufacturer who has not paid the special tax.

Mr. McMillan, of Tennessee, moved to special tax.

Mr. McMillan, of Tennessee, moved to strike out the clause which provides that half of the fines and penalties imposed by this act shall go to the informer. The House would not, in his judgment, do itself justice if it enacted such an obnoxious piece of legislation.

The motion was agreed to—76 to 23.

Then, in accordance with an arrangement previously made, the committee rose and reported the bill to the House, the understanding being that a vote abould be taken to day, and that an opportunity should be given to allow members to pass upon the question of reducing the rate of tax imposed.

osed. The House then (at 5 o'clock) adjourned. FUNERAL OF GEN. STANNARD. The Remains Taken to Vermont for

This was the case in which a letter from Gen. Legan, requesting prompt action, was found in the examination of the commissioner by Senator Flatt, a variagned mass of details was developed, some in favor and others against the olaimant. The witcom devided that he had given his associates instructions to hunt up two cases from Hilmois, one involving Senator Culton and the other involving Senator Logan, and declared that he had only given general instructions to certain of his subordinates, when the investigation was initiated, to furnish him such material as they had bearing on the subject.

Senator Plumb inquired if the commissioner thought the letter written by Gen. Logan, asking that the case be made special, was any worse than that written by Senator William making a similar request in respect to the Eastwood case. wood case.

Gen. Black replied that the letters were in the record and could speak for themselves. Senator Plumb retorted that he merely wished to "lilinstrine how very senie the witness's perceptions were when Republican seniors were involved, yet how very obtuse when Democratic senators were concerned."

Regetiations Necessarily Slow.
Representative Boutelle yesterday received a telegram from Eastport to the effect that the Dominion collectors of customs threaten to seize American boats if they buy herring from the fish weirs on the provincial shores, to be used for canning in the United States. A large business of this kind has been carried on at Eastport and vicinity, nearly all the fish being brought from the provincial weirs. Mr. Boutelle and Senator Hale presented the matter to Secretary Bayard, who promised to take immediate steps to ascertain the facts in the case, but remarked that as the diplomatic negotiations on this subject must be conducted through the British home government they are necessarily slow. Negotiations Necessarily Slow.

B. FRANK BIGELOW PARDONED. The President Exercises Clemency on His Wedding Day.

In many of the foreign countries on the celebration of any great event the king, prince, or potentate manifests grace and elemency by opening the prison doors and prince, or potentate manifests grace and clemency by opening the prison doors and restoring to liberty numbers of persons who have suffered long confinement. President Cleveland, while slow to interfere with the operation of the law or modify the judgment of a court, did, on his wedding day, perform an act of elemency, and granted full and unconditional pardon to B. Frank Bigelow, now confined in the New Hampshire state prison at Cohoord. He has given personal attention to the cree, examined all the papers submitted, and came to the conclusion to grant the application. When this decision had been reached the President further desired that the act of perdoning should be consummated on his wedding day. He wrote a personal letter to the Attorney General stating his wishes, and more activity was shown in getting through the circumiocution of red tape than ever before known in the Department of Justice. The document was finally prepared, algued, and sealed before the marriage. Bigelow was convicted of embezzing the funds of the National Bank of the Republic while its receiving teller, and sentenced to prison for five years. There still remains a number of indictments standing against him. Since his trial his wife has died, leaving six small children to the care and support of their grandparents, and his home can well be said to have been completely broken up.

During the summer the house will be redecorated, the seating capacity increased, and many needed improvements made, it being Mr. Strasburger's intention, while providing for the increased capacity the public demand, to add to their comfort by removating the entire premises. Mr. Jos. K. Strasburger, the surviving partner of Herzog & Co., will continue the management of the Academy of Music at Itchmond and Norlok in connection with the house in this city, thus enabling him to present the best class of attractions, by engaging them for the circuit. Mr. Strasburger, while appreciating the public approval, by liberal patronage, of his efforts to furnish first class ammement at reasonable prices, still premises better things in the future. The shiftly he has exhibited is a guarantee of the future. Mr. Strasburger leaves for New York Saturday to secure attractions for his several enterprises.

Rev. James M. Townsend, of Richmond-Ind., occupied the pulpit at Metropolitan A. M. E. Church last evening, his subject being M. E. Church last evening, his subject being "Vitality and Heroism in Christianity." Following out the line of thought suggested therein, the reverend gentleman said; "A man who has not much will does not make a very energetic Christian. No one enters Christ's church to day unless they can overcome the opposing forces. Religion requires self-sacrifice and subjection of self. They must have more life; more vitality in religion. There was no promise in the Bible for any one who was too lazy to do anything for the cause of humanity. Their mission in the world was identical with that of Christ and his methods. The speaker grew eloquent at times and snoke of the magnificent edifice in which he spoke as a monument to the energy, real, and vitality of his hearers. This evening there will be discourses on education and the schools.

Three More Vetoes by the President. The President has yetoed pension bills origi-nated in the Senate as follows: Granting a pennated in the Senate as follows: Granting a pension to James E. O'Shea; granting a pension to Augustus Field Stevens, and grantine a pension to John B. Williams. In the two cases last named the President sustains the pension office for having rejected the claims for pension, and in the case of O'Shea the President states that he is "convinced that there exists serious difficuity on the part of the claimant instead of in the record of the War Department; that the kin of irregularity for which he was under discipline is calculated to produce a lack of confidence in his merits as a pensioner; and that the fact of his situation being such as to reuder him liable to receive a wound is bardly sufficient to establish his right to a soldier's pension, which is only justified by injurios actually received and affirmatively proven."

Change of Railroad Gauges.

RICHMOND, VA., June 2—The gauge of the roads of the Richmond and Danville system from Danville to Atlanta, Charlotte to Augusta, and Salem to the company shops, aggregating 656 miles, was changed from flive feet to four feet nine inches yesterday. The work was commenced at 4a m and completed by 5 p. m., and trains are now running on the regular schedule over the new gauge. The accomplishment of this work enables the Richmond and Danville Company to run its trains between the termini of its roads without transfer and interchange traffic with all the roads of the contairy without breaking bulk, saving both time and money.

Jacksonville, Fla. June 2.—The change of gauge to standard on all the Florida railroads, except the Jacksonville and St. Augustine, and South Florida and Western system, was finished early to-day with but little delay to trains. The usan line of the Florida Railway and Navigation Company was also completed with but little delay, the western division from Surke to Grauge Heights was finished at 19750 a. m. It is understood that the South Florida Railroad will change gauge on Sept. 1.

Progress of Examinations at West Point. WEST POINT, N. Y., June 2.—The examina-ions at West Point are progressing rapidly and tions at West Point are progressing rapidly and quietly. This morning the first class was examined orally in ordnance and gunnery in the library, and the second class in chemistry, influencingly, and geology. The third and fourth classes are undergoing written examinations in French. The castets generally passed excellent examinations in ordinance and gunnery, and fallures were not noted against any. To show that they are as proficient in practice as in theory, the official report states that at the gunners attached to the 30-pound rifed Farrot pieces fred 27 shots, including trial short, at 1.250 yards range, and made 6 built-syst, and only missed the small target 7 times.

All the board of visitors have arrived or are expected to-day except Mr. Biasell, of Baffalo, who is in attendance at the President's wedding. He will arrive to-morrow. The number of visitors is not large as yet, and no prominent army officers or government officials have arrived. Geo. Sheridan and the Secretary of War are expected on the 11th instant, Mr. Alexander, the colored cades, is said to stand fairly in the third-class examinations.

PHILADELPHIA, June 2.—At a special meeting this afternoon of Philadelphia Typographical Union,No. 2, called for the purpose of dis ical Union, No. 2, called for the purpose of dis-cusing the relations existing between the Knights of Labor and the International Typo-graphical Union, resolutions were adopted ec-claring friendship for all organizations having for their object the advancement of the inter-ests of the laboring classes and the cause of labor, but expressing the belief that the inter-national Typographical Union should have ab-solute control of all matters relating to the crait throughout the United States. The local delegates to the convention of the interna-tional body to be held at Pittsburg were in-structed to vote for the maliteriance of the in-ternational Union as a separate and absolutely independent body first, last, and all the time, and against any fusion or smalesmation with any body that does not contain, as the vital principle, the supremacy of the International Typographical Union.

THE MARKETS.

Result of the Day's Business Shows Decline on the Active List. NEW YORK, June 3.—The street for the past few days has been more freely supplied with bear arguments than for some time past, and at present there are undoubtedly a great number of operators who have turned over to the bear side. Too element of uncortainty, however, prevents any general decided movement in either direction. The market closed firm but strong near the best prices of the day. It is reported that

The market closed firm but strong near the best prices of the day. It is reported that the Chicago party sold Northwast and Lake Shore, but bought St. Paul. London is also credited with being an indiscriminate seller in this market to-day, but the buil party intends there shall be no break, concequently they railled to the support of the market in the afternoon.

Advices from London this morning indicate weakness in the market there, and opening prices at the New York stock exchange were from a to i per cent, below the closing figures of last night. The market was weak from the opening, and material declines were made in the first few hours on a fairly active business, but the decline was quickly checked, the market becoming quiet and railying small fractions. This was followed in its turn by another sharp decline and another fractional raily accompanied by a dull market, but late in the afternoon there was a noticeable increase in the business done and a strong undertone to prices. Quotations advanged slowly but steadily until the close, which was at or near the best prices of the day. The total sales to-day amounted to 285,802 shares, a decline of 32,000 from yesterday, a day of only four hours' business. St. Paul furnished 72,000 shares. The net result of the day's business is a decline in most overything on the active dist.
